

Spring 2024

HRM 301-004: Organizational Behavior

Hindy Schachter

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.njit.edu/mtsm-syllabi>

Recommended Citation

Schachter, Hindy, "HRM 301-004: Organizational Behavior" (2024). School of Management Syllabi. 216.
<https://digitalcommons.njit.edu/mtsm-syllabi/216>

This Syllabus is brought to you for free and open access by the NJIT Syllabi at Digital Commons @ NJIT. It has been accepted for inclusion in School of Management Syllabi by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ NJIT. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@njit.edu.

New Jersey Institute of Technology
Martin Tuchman School of Management

ORGANIZATIONAL BEHAVIOR
HRM 301-004

Prof. H. L. Schachter

Office: 4019 CAB (the Management School Building)

Spring 2024

E-mail address:schachte@njit.edu

Class schedule: T - Th 1 - 2:20 in 204 Kupfrian

Office hours: Tuesdays and Thursdays from 11: 30 - 1

Course Materials- Stephen Robbins and Timothy Judge, Essentials of Organizational Behavior, Pearson 15th ed. ISBN 978-013-546889-0

Please note that this textbook comes in a cost reduced version as a rental edition. The ISBN for the rental edition is 9780135468890. You can also buy this textbook in an e-book version by going to the Pearson learner site at <https://www.pearson.com/store/en-us/pearsonplus/p/9780137439617.html>.

I. Course description and learning outcomes

A foundation course in individual and group behavior in organizations. Processes such as perception, motivation and leadership are examined with a focus on issues central to technology-based organizations (innovation, creativity, managing technical professionals).

Learning outcomes:

The course covers the fundamentals of how people behave in organizations using lectures, cases, and student projects to elucidate important points. Outcomes of the course are:

- a. To define organizational behavior (OB) and why it is important to managers.
- b. To analyze structures of large organizations and their impact on power and to discuss the role of national culture on organizational design and power relations.
- c. To identify how personalities and attitudes affect OB.
- d. To analyze how perception, attribution and communication affect how to manage a diverse workforce and business patterns in a globalized world.

- e. To analyze some theories of motivation and the impact of globalization for understanding motivation and key motivation theories.
- f. To analyze the role of informal groups and leadership on behavior and decision making in different national cultures.
- g. To explore the impact of change on workplace behavior in a globalized environment.

Expected learning outcomes

In addition to content specific course objectives, the course intends to help students develop analytical, communication, interpersonal and technology skills, namely;

LC 1 Develop an understanding of business concepts and the technical knowledge to solve business problems

LO1.1 Our students will demonstrate the knowledge and application of business fundamentals

LC 2 Develop effective communication skills

LO2.1 Our students will demonstrate the ability to deliver effective presentations enhanced by technology

LO 2. 2 Our students will demonstrate the ability to write clear and concise reports based on relevant information

LC 3 Interact effectively in teams

LO 3.1 Our students will develop the ability to understand and use team building behaviors to accomplish group tasks

LC4 Develop ethical reasoning skills

LO4.1 Our students will demonstrate the ability to identify ethical dilemmas and make decisions grounded in ethical principles.

II. Schedule of reading Assignments

Unit A - Chap. 1.

Unit B - Chap. 15 and chapter 13. Please access NJIT's 17-page organization chart which I will place on a Canvas discussion thread. We will use that chart to help explain the concepts of authority and span of control discussed in the textbook, chapter 16.

Unit C - Chap. 3.

Unit D - Chaps. 2,6 and 11.

Unit E - Chaps. 7 and 8

Unit F - Chaps. 9, 10,and 12.

Unit H - Chap. 16 and 17.

V. Course structure

This course offers work in full class and group settings. In some sessions we will break into small groups rather than work as a single unit so that class members can complete group exercises. Working in groups is an important part of the HRM 301 experience.

V. Course Deliverables:

A. Power Essay

Look at the section on "Bases of Power" on pp. 214-215 in the hard copy of the textbook. Using your own job experience or the experience of someone you know discuss how a manager used three bases of power to reach company goals using the framework supplied by the textbook. Write an essay of approximately two to four pages that relates your case study to the theoretical framework. I will grade the essay for content, organization, language, and technical proficiency (e.g., spelling, grammar). Grading will follow the "Fatal Error Writing Policy" which I will distribute with the syllabus. Please read the grading policy carefully and let me know if you have any questions about how it works.

B. Role Play Assignment

The assignment gives you the opportunity to work in a goal-directed group, motivate an audience to help you reach goals and reflect on your actions in relation to OB theories.

This is a group assignment. Each group prepares a simulation that requires the class to participate in one of the following:

- A. Brainstorming, p. 154 in hard copy of textbook or
- B. Nominal group technique, p. 154

The performing group presents to the class an organizational setting, a situation calling for use of the technique and roles for the group members and the class. During the exercise, group members explain the role play setting. Group members then lead the class through the exercise which should take approximately one hour. The core of the exercise is getting class members to generate alternate solutions to a problem that you explain to them. Each group member must take part in leading the class through the exercise. The technique must be relevant to the chosen situation.

Each group must submit to the instructor a paper of about four to five pages using OB concepts to explain one way that the group interacted in preparing the role play, e.g., how leadership, informal group culture, etc., affected development of the role play. The paper should relate textbook and class concepts to the specific group dynamics. All students must cite sources when they are used. A bibliography at the end of the paper is not sufficient! Members of a single group may receive different grades for the exercise because of different performance during the role play or different contribution to papers. I will form groups and notify you of your placement. You will have to meet in person or electronically with your group members to prepare the role play and other group assignments. Papers must have professional-level grammar and presentation. On the last sheet of the paper please list each team member's contributions to the document.

IV. Course Deliverables: Assessment

Power essay February 8 10% Handed in as hard copy in class

First test February 15 20%

Second test April 2 20%

Role play 20% for both oral and written grades combined.

Oral Scattered throughout term

Written April 18, 2024

Oral grade also includes credit for participation in role plays of other groups and participation in answering questions I will raise in class. Some class periods may include students solving case problems and such participation will count for the grade. For a good grade you must participate in all role plays and take roles assigned to you by the presenting group.

Final exam 30%

Make up policy: Students can only make up missed exams or paper submissions because of serious illness or a funeral for a family member. Please submit required documentation to the dean of students.

Introductory assignments

Group assignment:

- A. DUE as a group project delivered electronically on April 23 by 1:20pm. You will be given a problem to analyze as a group and recommend solutions in two or three paragraphs. The assignment is worth zero to five points extra on the final exam.

V. Course Policies

Additional information:

This class will uphold the NJIT Honor Code and violations will be brought to the attention of the Dean of Students.

Academic integrity is the cornerstone of higher education and is central to the ideals of this course. Cheating is strictly prohibited and devalues the degree that you are working on. As a member of the NJIT community it is your responsibility to protect your educational investment by knowing and following the NJIT academic code of integrity.

Students will be consulted and must agree to substantive deviations from syllabus content.

Students who miss an exam or other assignment because of illness or family emergencies must submit validation to the Dean of Students office in order to take a make-up exercise.

Grading policies are that to get an "A" grade you need to have a weighted average of 90 or greater. B+ requires 85-89, B requires 80 to 84, C+ requires 75 to 79, C requires 70 to 74, and a D requires 60-69. A lower weighted average than 60 equals an "F" grade.

Tentative weekly activities

1/16 Introduction
1/23 Structure and authority
1/30 Power
2/6 Personality and attitudes
2/13 Job satisfaction
2/20 Perception and attribution
2/27 Communication
3/5 Decision making
3/12 Break

3/19 Motivation
3/26 Motivation
4/2 Groups and teams
4/9 - Leadership
4/16 - Organizational change; wrapping up

The last class of this term is Thursday, April 25.

Exact dates for topics depend on the number of role plays.

Educational access is the provision of classroom accommodations, auxiliary aids and services to ensure equal educational opportunity for all students regardless of their disability. If you need accommodations due to a disability, please contact Scott Janz, Associate Director Office of accessibility Resources (OARS) and Services, Kupfrian 201 to discuss your specific need. A letter of Access Eligibility from OARS authorizing your accommodations will be required. Accommodations need to be requested in advance and will not be granted retroactively.